

The World Famous “Chamber Tour”

The Senate Theater is the only place in the world where you can literally walk through the pipes after every concert. The four chambers (or rooms) of pipes are opened for you to discover.

Bring your camera, because you've probably never been INSIDE a pipe organ before. It's really amazing.

Who would think that tin, lead, zinc, brass and wood, powered by air, could sound like this !!

Let Us Entertain You !

... Gee Dad ! It's a Wurlitzer !

The Senate Theater features an 800 seat auditorium which is home to one of the most well-regarded and exciting Wurlitzer theater pipe organs in the world. Our organ was originally built for the Fisher Theater in Detroit in 1927. It played there for many years until the theater was "modernized" in 1961. Since then, it has had a new home at the Senate Theater.

The organ has 34 ranks (or "rows") of pipes as well as tuned percussions such as a marimba, chimes, xylophone, glockenspiel, etc. There are also "untuned" percussions such as a snare drum, bass drum, tap cymbal, tambourine, castanets, tom tom, Chinese gong, bird whistle, etc. The organ is a one-man orchestra / band that has to be experienced to be believed! Our organists really pull out all the stops for you each concert!

Recently renovated outer and inner lobbies with upgraded lighting and seating for a comfortable and stylish atmosphere.
